I also think that Roblox is a great way for children to develop a lot of positive skills because they are using their imagination in every aspect of their game. For example, if you want to create your own avatar but don't know how, then you can just create different body parts such as hair or skin color and add a pretty face with an outfit. This will help them feel comfortable and not afraid about trying new things.

I am not a Minecraft addict, but I do enjoy playing that game. However, that is only because my friends and I play it together. Not because of the millions of dollars or diamonds you can get for free on Roblox. People are obsessed with Roblox; my Facebook account was filled with friends who played Minecraft as if they were addicted to crack. They would constantly post pictures about their new lifesize cardboard builds they worked on at home; taking ages-long breaks between each video to watch more videos of minecraft. We've all had friends who were that addicted to Roblox in our time, but I have never met one like Sinead who was "deeply miserable" because she was deprived of playing it. That was always the case whenever anyone mentioned it, I'm sure; parents would frequently ask me if and how I managed to get my grades, and teachers would always ask me if we had any homework. Sometimes they'd even assign us essays to write about our time on Roblox; even though a few months before everyone stopped doing them unless they were mandatory.

I love roblox because it is filled with amazing games. Also, I think it needs more easy to download games and more new games. There are lots of great players that are making great games but they feel unappreciated because if there is a new update some other player comes onto their game and steals their ideas so that doesn't make them happy. I also think that there should be easier ways for players to get to private chat or opt out of chat but not everyone would like being in a public chat room which would only make them mad. I like being in a private chat room with my friends because no one else can get into the room and report us for saying bad words.
